At 12 noon yes-terlay one of the most exciting handicap races known in history, not except-ing the great rush to the Cherokee strip, was pulled off. Although it was only a third as large as the strip run, it equalled the latter in many respects. As early as 3 o'clock in the morning the east side of the Kickapoo was liter ally lined with humanity, and every preparation was made for the break at 12. Every kind of vehicle imaginable was pressed into service. By daylight people were crowding for advantageous places on the line, all attempting to jam in at the best crossings of the Deed Fork. The Ingram crowd on the north numbered several thousand, while the Chandler delegation on the east was twice as large. Every man who had entered a fractional quarter on the north side of Deep Fork three years ago stood in the middle of the stream astride their best horses ready to dash upon the balance of the fraction, and a number of women were in the
